CLAIMING ONE

by

E.J. Runyon

"You run or you fight, but do something."

This powerful collection brings together 17 short stories linked together by flight or denial. Yet, E.J. Runyon masterfully intertwines a lop-sided trail of hope, found in the hearts of the characters, to thread these tales together.

The distinct characters in Claiming One are both incredibly loving and tragically flawed: far from finding what they seek, and an even longer way from peace. These are characters who run metaphorically towards burning buildings as often as they try escaping them.

Each story offers a glimpse into the characters' moment of choice. We witness perilous options, discoveries and decisions, all while considering the flawless humanity presented to us.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

E.J. Runyon lives in the US Southwest. Since 2002 she's found herself moving on to smaller and smaller desert towns, while working to become the author and writing coach she planned to be.

PRAISE

"Runyon tells her stories with an unashamed truthfulness. The work is edgy, but never gratuitously so, never for the sake of edginess. At the same time, there exists a compelling emotional accessibility."

– Catherine Ryan Hyde, author of Pay it Forward
