THE TRICKSTER

by
Dorothy A. Winsor

“When it comes to family, you’re rich...
and I’m dirt poor.”

Amid the intoxicating chaos of Winter Festival, attendant Dilly and Hedge Mage Fitch cross paths.

After surviving Rin’s wretched streets, Dilly aims to prove herself to Lady Elenia, who brought her back to Lac’s Holding and blessed her with a new life of comfort and luxury. Fitch seeks vengeance for a loved one, killed by a liquor that makes one vulnerable to suggestion.

But their separate goals are derailed when Dilly discovers Elenia’s secret lover is the head of a too-ambitious kinship, and Fitch finds his own smuggler-family pressuring him into using his unique nudging abilities for mutinous deeds.

When murmurs of treason break out in Lac’s Holding, it becomes clear that only Dilly and Fitch know the truth. The question is how they can save the city when those they’re loyal to stand in their way.

MATILDA WINDSOR IS COMING HOME

by Polari Prize-shortlisted author,
Anne Goodwin

In the dying days of the old asylums, three paths intersect.

Henry was only a boy when he waved goodbye to his glamorous grown-up sister; approaching sixty, his life is still on hold as he awaits her return.

As a high-society hostess renowned for her recitals, Matty's burden weighs heavily upon her, but she bears it with fortitude and grace.

Janice, a young social worker, wants to set the world to rights, but she needs to tackle challenges closer to home.

A brother and sister separated by decades of deceit. Will truth prevail over bigotry, or will the buried secret keep family apart?

In this, her third novel, Anne Goodwin has drawn on the language and landscapes of her native Cumbria and on the culture of long-stay psychiatric hospitals, where she began her clinical psychology career.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Alongside writing fiction, Anne is a book blogger battling disreputable fictional therapists and inaccurate portrayals of mental health matters.

PRAISE

"A fantastic novel about a tough topic, which highlights the changes in mental health policy and forces us to remember we are all vulnerable and we should fight to ensure that nobody is ever left behind."

MONSTROUS INK

by James Webster

"I saw a fury on the street today."

Talons and teeth. Lairs and labyrinths. Those beasts we fear and those we secretly admire. These are stories about monsters.

Featuring 52 very short stories, Monstrous Ink is a deep-dive into the murky waters of monster-dom from which so many of our most beloved sci-fi and fantasy stories came.

Told with sharp insight, spiky humour, and spine-tingling atmosphere, these tales explore what it means to be a monster and the power of reclaiming what (we fear) is monstrous inside ourselves.

THE WILDEST HUNT

by
Jo Zebedee

A long-dead child.

An artist who paints the fae.

An ancient estate on a blood-filled land.

The commission was close to Amelia's dream: a cosy cottage in Donegal over Christmas and the chance to paint the beautiful Glenveagh estate. But when the weather closes in and the country shuts down, a ritual begins - one that traps Amelia in its circles of magic.

Stranded in a place where iron is power, her heart can no longer be trusted and the land itself is a weapon, Amelia's survival depends on unravelling the truth of a decades-old death.

Even if it draws the same ancient danger to herself.

900 MILES

by
E.J. Runyon

Sudden luck strikes the one person who won't share the news.

It's a mega win on a weekly lotto ticket; a ton of cash.

Christina fills notebook pages with bucket lists, but can't bring herself to just pick any. Wanting but not letting herself have, that's Christina all over. Motherless, practically raising her stepdad Harrison instead of the other way around. For Christina, winning is what you hide so fate can't make it sour.

But fate has other plans.

Bit by bit, Christina's horizon widens. While she struggles with Harrison's addiction, and fights against all that she now has, fate wheels Christina to confront the young woman she could be, but can't yet face in the mirror.

BLUE TIDE RISING

by
Clare Stevens

“Somewhere in me a scream is rising, but I contain it. Just.”

Diazepam-fogged Amy isn't the best person to investigate an unexplained death, but she's the only one Jay can get through to.

On the run from her troubled past and controlling older (ex) lover, she winds up on a Welsh eco farm where she starts to rebuild her life, grounded by the earth and healed by the salt air.

But it isn't just her inner self that she manages to uncover. There are living ghosts at Môr Tawel, and they're as loud as the waters crashing over the shingle on the beach.

Amy's new life has just started, and she's already running out of time.

THE LAST TIME WE SAW MARION

by

Tracey Scott-Townsend

The truth is that two into one won't go...

Meeting author Callum Wilde is the catalyst that turns Marianne Fairchild's fragile sense of identity on its head, evoking demons that will haunt two families.

She is seventeen and has spent her life fighting off disturbing memories that can't possibly belong to her. His twin sister Marion died seventeen years ago.

When Cal and his older sister Sarah spot Marianne in the audience of a TV show that Cal is recording, they are stunned by her uncanny resemblance to Marion.

They have to find out who she is, but they both soon come to regret the decision to draw her into their lives.

Events spiral out of control for all of them, but whilst Cal and Sarah each manage to find a way to move on, Marianne is forced to relinquish the one precious thing that could have given her life some meaning.

Tracey is the author of uncompromising family dramas which delve into often uncomfortable aspects of relationships of all kinds, but motherhood is frequently at the heart of her stories.

PRAISE

"This book is a can't-put-it-down story that haunts. The plot is strong and carefully crafted with one mystery layered upon another, sections of information revealed to the reader little by little. The settings are well chosen so that the storyline never lacks atmosphere."

OF HIS BONES

OF HIS BONES

by

Tracey Scott-Townsend

"Gabe and I are happy this way. We don't need anyone else in our lives."

Mariana feels like a pawn in other people's games. Her birth mother is ill and opportunities for them to be reconciled are running out.

Despite being adopted, Mariana has always felt secure with who she is. But both sides of her birth family are now closing in, and whatever she decides will irrevocably alter many lives; most of all the man and woman who created her.

Of His Bones is about predestination and choices. It explores themes of familial love, identity and the powerful hold of the past. Set in the seascapes of East and North Yorkshire, this novel is the sister-book to The Last Time We Saw Marion.

SUGAR AND SNAILS

SUGAR AND SNAILS

by Polari Prize-shortlisted author,
Anne Goodwin

At fifteen, she made a life-changing decision. Thirty years on, it's time to make another.

When Diana escaped her misfit childhood, she thought she'd chosen the easier path. But the past lingers on, etched beneath her skin, and life won't be worth living if her secret gets out.

As an adult, she's kept other people at a distance... until Simon sweeps in on a cloud of promise and possibility. But his work is taking him to Cairo, the city that transformed her life. She'll lose Simon if she doesn't join him. She'll lose herself if she does.

Sugar and Snails describes Diana's unusual journey, revealing the scars from her fight to be true to herself. A triumphant mid-life coming-of-age story about bridging the gap between who we are and who we feel we ought to be..

A HOUSE OF LIGHT & STONE

by
E.J. Runyon

Growing up is never easy

Growing up is never easy, but for young Duffy Chavez, whose childhood is anything but innocent, the journey is particularly painful.

Swimming against the tides of her troubled family as well as her own cultural identity, she struggles with the cards she has been dealt. Buoyed up by the belief of a select few, she strives to achieve the kind of self-knowledge that comes so naturally to the 'real girls' all around her.

As gaps in the narrative begin to fill, and the truth surrounding Duffy's birth is unearthed, her determination to succeed is rendered all the more astounding.

Told in uncompromising clarity through the eyes of a child, A House of Light & Stone is at once full of heartbreak and hope, offering respites of warmth in the coldest of places.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

E.J. Runyon lives in the US Southwest. Since 2002 she's found herself moving on to smaller and smaller desert towns, while working to become the author and writing coach she planned to be.

PRAISE

ANNE GOODWIN

UNDERNEATH

by Polari Prize-shortlisted author,
Anne Goodwin

He never intended to be a jailer...

After years of travelling, responsible to no-one but himself, Steve has resolved to settle down. He gets a job, buys a house and persuades Liesel to move in with him.

Life's perfect, until Liesel delivers her ultimatum: if he won't agree to start a family, she'll have to leave. He can't bear to lose her, but how can he face the prospect of being a father when he has no idea what that even means? If he could somehow make her stay, he wouldn't have to choose ... and it would be a shame not to make use of the cellar.

Will this be the solution to his problems, or the catalyst for his own unravelling?

CITIZEN ZERO

by Mark Cantrell

Sometimes even a pawn can hold the balance of power.

In a bitterly divided nation where security trumps civil liberty, unemployed David is on the verge of sinking into the 'Zeroes' – a destitute underclass numbering millions. But then JobNet's advanced virtual reality world offers him a gateway to a worthwhile future, and a chance to rejoin society.

But David is an unwitting pawn in a deadly conspiracy to topple the Government: he's the ideal carrier for an intelligent virus designed to shatter the system and set the Zeroes free.

When the virus activates, chaos ensues and the Zeroes rise. David is left trapped inside a corrupted reality. If it doesn't shatter his sanity, the secret he finds there will change everything...

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

As a writer, Mark has dabbled in poetry but his mainstay is fiction. With four completed novels under his belt, and a host of short stories, his work straddles the sci-fi/ horror/ fantasy continuum, but he prefers to run with his imagination.

PRAISE

"A complex story where the real and un-real overlap in this Orwellian-like story, but with many more characters with diverse experiences. Overall, this is a well-written, highly developed novel that gives a vivid, and sometimes-horrifying picture of a dystopian world."

OSHIBANA COMPLEX

by
Craig Hallam

Welcome to Shika-One City, humanity's final home.

Nations have come together. Gender and race are petty concerns of the past. But not everything is well in Shika-One.

Humanity can no longer procreate and has to synthesize future generations. But there aren't many genetic templates to go around and meeting yourself on the street is a daily occurrence. With so many people wearing the same face, the synths of Shika-One strive for individuality in a world where stepping out of line can lead to the shredder.

In this pulsing neon world lives Xev and eir friends, all hard-working synths who maintain their designations to earn the XP to live and hope to afford the holographic shams that cover up their similarities. That is, until a new synth makes Xev start to ask big questions that might upset the status quo.

In Shika-One, life is cheap.
Xev is about to discover what e's worth.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Craig likes to think that his books are about real people who live in impossible worlds. Whether his books are Fantasy, Horror, Steampunk, or Sci-fi, Craig loves to go wherever the stories may take him.

PRAISE

This cyberpunk world is well crafted, but the story is more than its world and aesthetic. [...] Ultimately, it ends up being a discussion of the mind and body, a transhumanist discussion in the face of depression.

LETTERS FROM THE LIGHT

by
Shel Calopa

Imagine a world where light is a privilege...

In a future Australia, where light is only for the powerful and the poor struggle in darkness, Sam grew up praying for a way out. Living as the only sighted boy in a town of blind workers was tough. Discovering it didn't have to be that way was tougher.

Sam is just one of five desperate people, each from vastly different societies in a deeply divided land, who must survive prejudice, calamity, and each other, to unlock the secrets of their world, and ultimately help a fabled Ai defeat an ancient foe.

Letters from the Light is a debut dystopian sci-fi novel by Australian author Shel Calopa. Join her and celebrate diversity, explore the corrupting influence of power, and ask whether it's truly possible to break free of your upbringing.

WHAT WOULD YOU DO TO ESCAPE THE DARK?

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Whilst set squarely within the Science-Fantasy genre, Shel's stories only use science as a colourful backdrop against which her characters struggle with the contemporary issues of class, gender, discrimination and power.

PRAISE

"Cleverly marrying the feel of The Handmaid's Tale and an espionage Saga, the plot strands pull ever tighter, heading, inexorably, towards a showdown. Intelligent, complex, entertaining and surprising, this book is one of this year's most compelling reads."

- Caroline Noe, author of 'The Canellian Eye' Series

WE BLEED THE SAME

by
David Wilkinson

Pay no heed to the angel overhead.

When the leak of sensitive information is traced back to his computer console, Government official and minor celebrity Danny Parque's bright future comes crashing down around him.

Found guilty and sent out as a conscripted criminal to fight for an Empire he once loved but comes to despise, horrifying combat leads to capture by the terrorists he is supposed to fear. Danny joins their ranks; persuaded that they are pursuing the same freedom he craves. But the time soon comes when, entangled in a new web of lies, Danny wonders if the price of freedom is his own conscience.

When asked to betray everything - and everyone - he once held dear, the decision must be made...Whose side is he on?

UNDER THE SHELL

by
David Wilkinson

Engalise is a city under siege.

Without a government or the usual series of formal laws, relative peace is kept under the premise of the Ten Free Rights of the Individual.

Freedom Protection Agent Jaq Pilakin specialises in investigating violations against the First Right: life. As a freelancer, she's forced to pick up the less lucrative cases cast aside by the big agencies, and stumbles into a scene where an artillery strike by the besieging forces has left a plumber dead under the rubble.

As Pilakin digs deeper into the case, she finds a trail of murders - and a would-be murderer finds her. When she finally identifies the perpetrator, it turns out she holds Engalise's entire fate in her own bloodstained hands.

ELYSIUM'S SHADOW

by
Matthew Munson

“It’s been a hell of a first day.”

Jon May has been the Governor of Elysium for a few hours, and he’s already facing a belligerent Chief of Security, an ex-Operations Manager imprisoned for killing the previous Governor, and an amorphous energy mass that has its own agenda.

So now Jon has to decide who to trust; his Security Chief will barely talk to him, and his only allies are people who, according to the Republic, are dangerous criminals.

With less than 48 hours to delve into the shadows surrounding Elysium’s recent but tumultuous past, May is about to uncover more about this job than he bargained for.

THE ADVENTURES OF ALAN SHAW #1

by
Craig Hallam

Escaping the workhouse was only the beginning of Alan Shaw's adventures.

For an orphan growing up on the streets of Victorian London, staying alive is a daily battle filled with choices a child should never have to make.

Then Alan is offered more money than he can imagine; enough to take him to the new world and a new life. He only has to do one thing first - something that could bring the British Empire to a grinding halt.

In a series of adventures that take him from sea to sky, from Brighton to Bombay, Alan grows up in a steam-driven era where Automatons walk the London streets and dirigibles master the air. Pitted against mad alchemists, tentacled submersibles, and the cult of the Ordo Fenris, Alan has his work cut out for him.

With a past as dark as his, who knows what Alan might grow up to be?

OLD HAUNTS

THE ADVENTURES OF ALAN SHAW #2

by
Craig Hallam

Alan Shaw is at it again.

From homeless urchin to world-class adventurer, Alan has tackled magic, myths and machines, lost love and made one fatal mistake. In an effort to come to terms with what he has done, Alan heads into the East and disappears from the world.

His new partner, the loyal and straight-talking pilot, Merry, might just bring him out of his darkness. Or maybe Alan's curse will take them both to places from which they can never return. Ancient dangers return to smother the world in sand, the demonic cult leader Volkert rises again, and Alan's past will come back to deliver a haymaker. But those are the least of his worries because, on the streets of London, Mister Slay is leaving a wake of fear and blood, daring Alan to return home.

The danger and wry wit keeps coming in this much-anticipated sequel to a Steampunk epic adventure.

In the legends, The Four saved the world from war and poverty.

These incredible men walked the lands, seeking an audience with the ruler of each nation. They demanded that mankind focus its efforts on education, trade and culture. No longer would the people face starvation and terror. This commandment was enforced with displays of miraculous power. After all, it is difficult to argue with the Gods. Once finished, The Four left with a promise: If ever your people fall back into darkness, then we shall return.

Now, over five centuries later, Sarene grows tired of her village life. Suffocated by the confines of her surroundings and the overbearing protection of her family, she yearns to have an adventure of her own.

But the world outside is not as tranquil as it seems. And Sarene is already in danger...

LEGACY

THE RESONANCE TETRALOGY #1

by
Hugo Jackson

Her power is unmeasured. Her abilities untested. Her destiny inescapable.

Faria Phiraco is a resonator, a manipulator of the elements via rare crystals. It is an extraordinary and secret power which she and her father, the Emperor of Xayall, guard with their lives. The Dhraka, malicious red-scaled dragons, have discovered an ancient artefact; a mysterious relic from the mythical, aeons-lost city of Nazreal. With their plan already set in motion, they besiege Xayall, pummelling the city to find Faria and rip more of Nazreal's secrets from her.

When her father goes missing, Faria has to rely on her own strength to brave the world that attacks her at every turn. Friends and guardians rally by her to help save her father and reveal the mysteries of the ruined city, while the dark legacy of an ancient cataclysm wraps its claws around her fate... and her past. She soon realises that this is not the beginning, nor anywhere near the end. A titanic war spanning thousands of years unfolds around her, one that could yet cost the lives of everyone on Eeres.

Legacy is character-driven epic fantasy action forged in an exciting and intricate plot that reaches deep into the Resonance world's history.

Hugo Jackson

“The shadows are coming.”

Months after the tremors that shook the world, repercussions of battle still lie in Xayall's broken streets. Among the debris stands Bayer, former bodyguard to Faria, Empress of the city state. His position redundant, and his injuries still healing, he struggles to find new purpose.

Unrest between nations is already stirring. A Councillor from Andarn has been murdered, and only a handful realise that sinister machinations are blackening the root of the whole continent.

Questioning his duties, Bayer finds himself escorting Captain Alaris on a mission from which neither may return, although their failure may spark a brutal and catastrophic war.

As blades rise, threats both new and old emerge from the darkness and bare their teeth at the world...

RUIN'S DAWN

THE RESONANCE TETRALOGY #3

by
Hugo Jackson

"I want to hear everything, Osiris. All that you can tell me."

In the desert town of Mahrae, a young fox is about to discover his power.

A single bolt of crystal energy begins Aidan's journey, one that will test him to his furthest limits and deepest loyalties. The gryphon Osiris takes Aidan under his wing and together they battle shadows and suspicion to bring warring nations to the pinnacle of invention and prosperity—the new city Nazreal.

But not every creature strives for a bright and industrious future.

Conflict is an unsteady foundation for the burgeoning metropolis. The launch of a thousand incredible dreams plants the seed for an immeasurable disaster that even Aidan and his friends do not have the power to prevent.

This is the story of Nazreal's ascension... and the end of the world.

THE WIND READER

by

Dorothy A. Winsor

His Da always said a man was nothing without his honor.

Stuck in a city far from home, street kid Doniver fakes telling fortunes so he can earn a few coins to feed himself and his friends. Then the divine Powers smile on him when he accidentally delivers a true prediction for the prince.

Concerned about rumors of treason, the prince demands that Doniver use his "magic" to prevent harm from coming to the king, and so Doniver is taken--dragged?--into the castle to be the royal fortune teller.

Now Doniver must decide where the boundaries of honor lie, as he struggles to work convincing magic, fend off whoever is trying to shut him up, and stop an assassin, assuming he can even figure out who the would-be assassin is.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

For about a dozen years, Dorothy taught technical writing at Iowa State University and served as the editor of a Business Journal, but then she decided writing middle-grade and young adult fantasy was more fun.

PRAISE

"Dorothy Winsor's novel presents an intriguing and well-drawn world, with a very likeable lead. An exciting, adventurous, and thoughtful YA fantasy novel."

THE WYSMAN

THE WYSMAN

by
Dorothy A. Winsor

"The Grabber is just a fright tale."

Former street kid Jarka was born with a crooked foot and uses a crutch, but that no longer matters now that he's an apprentice Wysman, training to advise the king. When poor kids start to go missing from the city's streets, though, Jarka suspects that whatever's causing the disappearances comes from the castle.

Now he needs to watch his step or risk losing the position he fought so hard to win... but when someone close to him becomes the latest victim, Jarka knows he's running out of time.

His search takes him from diving into ancient history, to standing up to those who want to beat or bleed the magic out of him.

Will Jarka succeed in uncovering an evil long-hidden, or will he see friends and family vanish into the darkness?

EIGHTEEN LIVES

by Dove Calderwood

“The possibility of my imminent demise loomed overhead.”

Heather Kütz would like nothing more than to be a normal teenager. After striking a deal with Death to save her sister, she gets stuck in an endless loop of lives, all ending just before her nineteenth birthday.

When, during her eighteenth life, Death unexpectedly sweeps her into his domain, she's ready to give him a piece of her mind. But then he tells her about a group of rebellious spirits bent on returning to the living world. If Heather fails to help Death, the spirits will flood the world, undoing Death's power and obliterating life's natural balance in one fell swoop.

But Heather doesn't blame them; she's witnessed Death's deception time and again. As the conflict escalates, Heather must ultimately choose who to stand beside — Death... or the lost souls literally fighting for their lives.

FALL FROM GRACE

by
Matthew Munson

"It's time for Heaven to become a democracy."

Since leaving his calling in the priesthood and saying goodbye to the church, Paul's life has gone from bad to worse. But now, his inability to hold down a job is the least of his problems.

He and his friends, skeptic extraordinaire Joseph and academic psychologist Lauren, are thrown headfirst into a celestial war that has raged on for two millennia. As a secret plot begins to unravel, the fate of thousands lies in their hands.

To put things right, the three of them must venture into the Heavenly Ruling Chamber alongside those who started the rebellion two thousand years ago – and survive coming face to face with the Almighty himself.

Leap of Faith

Matthew Munson

LEAP OF FAITH

by
Matthew Munson

War is once again on the horizon of the two worlds.

Leap of Faith is the second novel from Matthew Munson, following the adventures of characters we first met in Fall From Grace – human and angel alike.

The lives of Paul and Joseph have changed over the past two years; Paul is on Earth, living a new life with his girlfriend, while Joseph is in heaven, living as an angel and still mourning the loss of his sister, Lauren.

Barriers between the realms are breaking down, and humans, angels and spirits have set their sights on a catastrophic course of events that will result in the destruction of everything around them.

That is, unless Paul and Joseph – with some divine intervention – can stop a war between an angelic army and countless spirits.

Short Stories

BECOMING SOMEONE

by Polari Prize-shortlisted author,
Anne Goodwin

What shapes the way we see ourselves?

An administrator is forced into early retirement; a busy doctor needs a break. An estate agent seeks adventure beyond marriage; a photojournalist retreats from an overwhelming world. A widow refuses to let her past trauma become public property; another marks her husband's passing in style.

Thought-provoking, playful and poignant, these 42 short stories address identity from different angles, examining the characters' sense of self at various points in their lives. What does it mean to be a partner, parent, child, sibling, friend? How important is work, culture, race, religion, nationality, class? Does our body, sexuality, gender or age determine who we are?

Is identity a given or can we choose the someone we become?

CLAIMING ONE

by
E.J. Runyon

"You run or you fight, but do something."

This powerful collection brings together 17 short stories linked together by flight or denial. Yet, E.J. Runyon masterfully intertwines a lop-sided trail of hope, found in the hearts of the characters, to thread these tales together.

The distinct characters in Claiming One are both incredibly loving and tragically flawed: far from finding what they seek, and an even longer way from peace. These are characters who run metaphorically towards burning buildings as often as they try escaping them.

Each story offers a glimpse into the characters' moment of choice. We witness perilous options, discoveries and decisions, all while considering the flawless humanity presented to us.

DOWN DAYS

by
Craig Hallam

This isn't a self-help book. But I hope it will support you anyway.

Beginning as a therapeutic exercise that was never supposed to be read by anyone else, the Down Days blog attracted readers from across the globe with its blunt, honest and poignant description of what it's really like to live as a creative with depression and anxiety.

Down Days tells it like it is; breakdowns, anxiety loops, awkward social situations, out-of-touch doctors and perceptive counsellors; what it feels like to lose everything, including yourself, and how it changes you.

But this book also proves that you can make it through, and that you aren't alone.

Filled with pop culture references and dark humour, Down Days is an essential read whether you live with mental health issues or love someone who does.

Tell Me A Story

How to Write

Good, Basic Advice
for Novices Ready To Write

E.J. Runyon

Too many books tell you what you need to do during a round of editing...

But they very rarely explain why that need exists. Without explanation and examples to help your understanding, craft basics can feel restrictive and unbearable.

You might have already begun writing something you've had a great idea for. But a great story requires more than the gift of inspiration. Tell Me (How To Write) A Story takes you through the first steps of what you need to know to write well, and how to improve your editing technique.

This book lets you learn with Hows and Whys, through writing examples from real novices. This will allow you to jump into storytelling with solid practices for getting your ideas from your mind to the page.
